

Systematic Spending

- Practically every individual today is aiming to reduce personal expenses in order to better meet increased living costs and respond more liberally to our Government's call for "fighting dollars."
- In this connection a Checking Account is invaluable.
- It provides an accurate account of all financial transactions; it records every expenditure in a concise form convenient for ready reference and careful comparison.
- This Institution especially invites Checking Accounts.

"A motor car is an important investment," says J. H. Wagner, local Chevrolet dealer. "And it is only fair," he continues, "that the prospective purchaser be taught the essentials of motor car knowledge before investing his money."

"Before selecting a motor car, the buyer should carefully consider each of these ten important points: (1) Economy; (2) Power and Flexibility; (3) Durability; (4) Comfort; (5) Safety; (6) Convenience; (7) Ease and Care; (8) Easy Riding; (9) Beauty; (10) Style.

"It is not necessary to consider these points in order as stated, although it would be a safe plan to follow.

"Economy has been given preference, for the reason that it is the important point of the hour. Buy a car having an economical record, one that will give you a maximum amount of mileage for each gallon of gasoline. This is governed by type of motor, bearings, lubrication and weight.

"The next important essential to watch for is power. You want power in an automobile. You want to be able to go anywhere. You do not want to feel any limitations in this respect.

"Durability is something we all seek in making a purchase. It is especially important when one considers the amount involved. This item depends on the integrity of the maker, his honesty, his ideals, his standards. A good way to judge this is to notice the number of cars of any particular make in use. This is, as a rule, a good guide to follow.

"Conveniences and comforts are important, too. Buy a car that gives you the little things that make motoring enjoyable and free from care. Select your motor car with this knowledge and without mistakes."
